Presentation Slide Packet

Within the high school environment, each specific audience needs to hear a message that is catered to their needs. Use slide packets to customize presentations to each audience, thus creating a more powerful message that resonates with students immediately. Small presentation changes to key pieces of information go a long way towards effectively reaching audiences and leaving a memorable message.

An effective Presentation Slide Packet is:

☑ Easily dropped into a presentation based on the audience needs
☑ Focused on a specific topic which would not be included in every presentation

An effective Presentation Slide Packet includes:

☑ Unique information specific to the topic of interest
☑ Engaging visual aids or videos to enhance the content presented

Tips for an Effective Presentation

- Read the entire presentation thoroughly
- Rehearse the presentation aloud and time your rehearsal
- Print out supplementary materials ahead of time
- Ensure necessary presentation technology is functioning properly
- Arrange the room to suit the needs of your presentation
- Clearly display and distribute materials for the presentation

This resource is part of the Sanford Inspire Program Recruitment Toolkit, a model for teacher preparation programs to engage and attract future educators. Discover more resources at SanfordInspireProgram.org